"My accountant doesn't tell me anything"

The forgotten building block of any information delivery is ensuring that the other person understands the basics before being given more advanced data.

Changing your Accountant

Tell me... why would you as a business owner bother going to all that trouble to CHANGE Accountants if what we offer you is basically identical to the services your receiving from your CURRENT accountant.

Thus we see that, to CREATE INTEREST we have to PACKAGE our services in a way that is new, interesting and very much aligned with what business owners WANT from Accounting services (but aren't getting from their current service provider).

Business owners are (almost unanimously) of the opinion that financial, business & taxation problems are caused by their Accountants!

It's the Accountant whose lack of communication is at fault here according to business owner's viewpoint!

But it's not the accountant's fault... and it's not your fault either.

The problem lies in not having the methodology to BUILD THE BASIC UNDERSTANDING before attempting to explain more advanced business Concepts.
